Criminal Court meets Monday, Hon.

M. L. Hall presiding.

We have had another whole week of splendid spring weather.

There have been no May day picnics or observances in this region so far.

Robert Harper and Jas. H. Farmer were commissioned at Nashville Thursday as Justices of the Peace for Knox county, as we learn from the American.

According to the American the amount of funds in the Tennessee State Treasury April 1-1, was $168,579.60; receipts for April, $38,340.76; total $509,720.36. Disbursements for April, $148,119.70; balance on hand May 1st, $58,800.57. Excess of disbursements, $10,779.63.

J. A. Galbraith, Rev. Mr. Butler and T. A. Baker have been appointed by the Greenville Presbyterian Sunday-school as delegates to the East Tennessee Sunday School Convention at Maryville, on the 15th Inst., as we learn from the New Era. According to the Times the following delegates were appointed by the Jonesboro' Presbyterian school: Mrs. E. Murphy, Rev. D. O. Byers and Wm. R. Lampson, principals; and Mrs. Lucy Sevier, Wm. G. Mathe, and John S. Mathew, alternates.

There is to be a service of Song at the Third Presbyterian Church tonight, conducted by Mr. W. J. Richards with Mrs. Annie Price as the organ. Short addresses will be made by Rev. W. A. Harrison, D. D., and Mr. J. A. Rayl—it will be a pleasant occasion and a rare treat to all who attend.

The Gems of all Odors.

Dr. Price's Unique Perfumes surpass in durability and natural flowery freshness those made in this or any other country. Persons who think perfumes poor unless they come from abroad, should try Dr. Price's Handkerchief Odors. They are really exquisite.

Poverty and Suffering.

I was dragged down with debt, poverty and suffering for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring, which did them no good. I was completely disengaged, until one year ago, by the advice of my pastor, I procured Hop Bitters and commenced their use, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have seen a sick day since, and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost, I know it. Hawkins County Consaltee.

Harriet Bell, living about two miles from Rogersville, met with a heavy loss last week, her dwelling house, furniture, and most of the wearing apparel of himself and family being destroyed by fire. Through the exertions of some sympathizing friends, some contributions were obtained for the relief of the sufferers.

From the hearing court on Monday, we heard of a distressing occurrence in the 5th civil district of this county. A young man by the name of Thos. Crawford, about eighteen years old, went out, on last Friday, cutting rail timber, when a tree in falling struck another one, breaking off a large limb, which fell upon Crawford, and killed him upon the spot. —Rogersville Spectator.

KNOX COUNTY S. S. CONVENTION.

Proceedings of the Second and Closing

Day at Corinth Church.

The Knox County Sunday School Convention, in session at Corinth M. E. Church, convened according to adjournment at 9 o'clock yesterday morning and was called to order by the President, Prof. W. R. Murphy, and the attendance was very large and encouraging, as many as the church would comfortably accommodate.

The exercises were opened by singing the 35th Psalm Hymns, "Precious Promise, and reading of the Scriptures by Rev. Jas. L. Cash Jr., music, "Oh where are the Reapers?" prayer by Hon. David Richards, and another piece of music, "The Ninety and Nine."

The first question "How to bring all classes of a community into the Sunday-school," was taken up and opened in an interesting speech by Hon. David Richards.

Rev. Jas. L. Cash Jr., said politeness and good feeling are necessary, as well as good music, and punctual and orderly attention.

Mr. W. A. Anderson said the Sunday-school cause is the grand base on which the great cause of Christianity and the Church is to be built, hence the great importance of bringing in all classes.

He spoke of the encouraging progress of this work, which has grown to a mighty and tremendous power for good in the land is constantly on the increase. Music, the saying of beautiful songs, is a power in this work which can not be comprehended scarcely.

Mr. H. B. McLemore said, a systematic course of visitation in families outside of the schools will accomplish the end to a great extent.

Mr. Sam P. Fowler said, it is important to have suitable teachers for every class, and those who have the welfare of souls at heart.

Mr. Chaunberry said, one class which should be specially looked after, is the indigent families, who will not come out otherwise.

Mr. W. S. Harris said, music will draw more children into the Sunday-school than anything else, and when the children are attracted the parents will come.

Rev. J. M. Durham said, a spirit of earnestness is one qualification of great and essential necessity.

The discussion of the next question, "The Finances of a School—How Managed," was opened by Rev. Isaac Emory, in a very appropriate speech. He said no school can be successful until they recognize the importance of regular missionary and other necessary contributions. There should be a systematic method of giving, and let that giving be as God has prepared us. If any one hasn't the money, let them give anything else they possess.

Mr. W. W. Bishop endorsed the views of the opening speaker, and added some additional words on the importance of a systematic giving to this all important cause.

Mr. W. A. Anderson said the plan which should be observed in contributions is to set apart a certain piece of property, or other article, or thing for that specific purpose, and use it for nothing else.

Mr. Richards suggested the gathering up of fragments and things apparently of no value, by those who can't give anything else, and set that apart for the Lord.

Mr. J. A. Rayl said we must look after the still stronger light, and not consider that a portion of our possessions belong directly to God, who gave them all. The proceeds rightly belong to Him, to whom we are under such obligations for these blessings, and we are in duty bound to contribute thereto to the support of the church and Sunday school work. In this connection, following up the remarks of Mr. Rayl, it was thought an appropriate time to take up collection to defray expenses incurred by Prof. Murphy in working up the convention, and the hats being passed around, a good sum was raised.

After music again, the next question, "The Nessus," was opened by Prof. W. A. Harrison, and the hats were passed up, and Mr. S. P. Angel, explained briefly that first there should be the Bible, then singing books, blackboards, maps, charts, etc.

The blackboards were then exhibited with very accurate and excellently drawn maps of Palestine. There were four of these maps executed by Mary Anderson, Minnie Harris, John Jouenau and Frank May respectively.

Prof. Murphy, with a class of little girls and boys, conducted a very interesting drill on the subject of Geology, using the maps, which were quite interesting, eliciting great pleasure by careful teaching.

THOMAS C. MILLINER.

Mr. C. MILLINER: We will hurriedly note a few things. The people of New Salem Church have nearly completed a handsome and commodious parsonage, therefore their parsonage is the future will reside at home.

A Sunday-school reorganization was effected at Houser's School House on the 27th of April, which resulted in the choice of Mr. Wm. Hahn as Superintendent, with a full corps of officers and teachers to assist him. This school has been in successful operation for twelve months.

Mr. W. C. McCammon married a number of fine fat sheep this week. Bill is a model farmer, but says he can not afford to keep sheep that will jump a two story fence or climb trees.

Corn planting will soon be completed. Mr. Russell was in our neighborhood recently taking testimony in a pension claim in which he is employed.

Mr. Boyd and lady, of your city, were at the sulphur spring of Mr. Newell a few Sundays ago. They returned to their home with the water. This place if properly improved with shade trees and buildings would become a popular resort for the citizens of your burg a during the best term.

Mr. Neubert ground a hog in his mill on Wednesday last. The door was left open and it came in to lick at the meal, got entangled in a large cast wheel and after revolving around several times it was found that his hogship was no more.

Shoddy.

The term "shoddy" has become very significant, meaning what is showy, pretentious and unsubstantial material hypocrisy. Its main element is deceit.

Anything may be shoddy. There are shoddy charlatans, shoddy buildings, shoddy dresses, shoddy material, shoddy kinds; an appearance of substance and value without the reality.

The law of demand and supply does not fully account for the existence of shoddy, for none really prefer show without substance. A false idea of cheapness has much to do with it; but articles of poor quality are dear at any price, and they who buy cheap, shoddy, unsubstantial goods are as much shorted as those who make them.

In some cases buyers are really ignorant of qualities, and accept show for substance. Take for instance the Sewing Machine, now become a household necessity. Several varieties are offered, and ignorant purchasers are easily imposed upon; many conclude that a sewing machine is a sewing machine, no matter who is the maker. But sewing machines differ as much in quality as do eggs, butter, apples, etc., as horses, cloth, or anything else. There are shoddy sewing machines too.

How shall they be distinguished?

The source is often conclusive of quality. No one doubts the genuineness of a coin just from the United States mint. There are houses and companies which never produce anything shoddy, to pick a customer's pocket in a roundabout way. The Wheeler and Wilson Sewing Machine Company believe their Inferior Identical with their customer's; they furnish machine tools fit and elegant, unshoddy.

The material and workmanship are the best, and they have spent money lavishly in improvements, so that in all respects their machines are the standard Sewing Machines of the world. Hence, in dealing with that Company, we are sure of the best, while their prices and conditions of sale are as favorable as any.

A sewing machine needs as good a backer as a bond or a note. Nearly two hundred different sewing machines have been made and sold in that country, not a half dozen of which have good bidders, and they are useless, rusting in garret and cellars.

In buying a machine, we must look forward a few years and consider if the maker is likely to be responsible, so that we can be assured of repair and supplies; if not, the machine will become valueless. The Wheeler and Wilson Company is an old reliable Company, and is bound to endure through generations. It is a solid, honorable Company, faithful to its obligations, and jealous of its reputation; and purchasers of the Wheeler and Wilson Machine are sure to get the best and no shoddy.
